The goal of Project Stay Connected is to maintain heating, electricity, gas, and phone services for low-income Massachusetts residents. Stay Connected staff attorneys – Jenifer Bosco, Charlie Harak, and Jeremiah Battle – provide free training and case advice for front-line social service workers and advocates in Massachusetts. See the events and courses offered below.

We also advocate for more consumer-friendly rules and practices regarding shut-offs of utility services, promote discount rates and reasonable payment plans, and seek adequate funding for the fuel assistance and weatherization programs. (More information about Public Policy Reforms here).

Please do not hesitate to contact stayconnected@nclc.org with any questions.

Utility Consumer Rights Course

NCLC staff will offer free zoom trainings for advocates and front-line social service workers who work with low-income, Massachusetts clients. Advocates learn the eligibility requirements for utility discounts, how to prevent service from being shut off, and how to restore service if it was terminated. The training lasts about 90 minutes including a short break and time for questions.

See schedule below for dates. Also below find a recording of a past training as well as course materials.

NCLC Open Energy and Utility Q&A Hours

“Q&A Hours” are an informal, virtual space for folks who work with low-income utility customers to gather with NCLC staff attorneys (and occasional guest experts) and ask questions about specific issues their clients are facing, ask general questions about MA utility law or the Stay Connected training materials, share information about what they are seeing in the field, and/or share recommendations with fellow advocates. Each session will begin with a brief 10-15 minute presentation by NCLC staff on one pressing issue (i.e. LIHEAP process, Arrearage Management Programs etc.). More information here.

Q&A Hours will be offered periodically and the Zoom link will be posted on this page and shared widely prior to the event.

Private Group Training Opportunities

We also offer our full Utility Consumer Rights Course to groups privately as well. Advocates can request a live training by emailing stayconnected@nclc.org. In your initial email please give us an idea of when you would like the training to take place and an estimate of how many attendees we could expect. We need a minimum of three weeks to plan, and at least 15 people in attendance to give a private training.
